

366-1000
This year

It's One year later
And all is not well
Some rest in heaven
There's pain i can tell
This life's like an album
With scratches and pops
Though the music's still perfect
And it never stops

And one year later
I'm lying in bed
Tears for these people
I often shed
And warm neath the covers
I still feel at home
There's always a highway
To love I am shown

And one year later
The stars remain true
Each night they sparkle
In the cold steely blue
And even when darkness
Holds heavy my heart
The universe beckons
Tells me i am a part

A part of a puzzle
Much bigger than me
One piece in a trillion
Longing to just be
In love with my fellows
Without any fear
Of what life will bring us
In the next year
