Those are the facts

Those are the facts, she said
It's plain for everyone to see
You are the villain in these affairs
And so i issue my decree

Those are the facts she said
You're the one whose interest waned
Did you lie to me to get me in your arms
Even when deep I you disdained?

Those are the facts I said
You painted a picture that wasn't real
Did you think that I wouldn't figure out
Do you care at all how i feel?

Those are the facts I said
You became a parasite
But in the end the world will take you side
Regardless of what is right

Just because you think it, doesn't make it so
Anyone can twist the facts anyway they want to go
We have no way to figure out an objective truth
There is no way to conjure such despite the greatest sleuth

And so you will hide behind your vision and your needs
And i will hide behind a wall defending all my deeds
And neither of us from this war will emerge intact
And that my friend in the end is the only fact
