Those pills

Can i have a few of those pills
The ones that cure all of my ills
The ones that leave me feeling great
But do not overly sedate

The ones that aren't dangerous at all every one who takes them has a ball
Can i have a few of those pills
Can i have a few of those pills

Can i have one more hit of that elixir
Some people call it the attitude fixer
It's totally devoid of booze and tranquilizer
There's nothing in it made by pfizer

Those pills
Were ground by the dalai lama
Packaged in loving kindness
Sealed With a kiss from your mama
Those pills
Are the ones worth their weight in gold
Too bad they don't exist
Or they'd clearly be the best ever sold

Can i have a few of those pills
The ones that you promise will cure all of my ills
The ones that will help me feel joy unbounded
Even though some would say such bliss is unfounded
