Watch how the live

When i watch how they live
I wonder where their strength comes from
I wonder how they make it through each day

When i watch how they live
I marvel at their brilliant smiles
I wonder would i be able to carry on

When i watch how they live
I yearn to feel the pain they do
I know it sounds terrible too
But It makes me feel like i am closer to god
And that to me is heaven

When i watch how they live
I envy them for the meaning they derive
From even the most mundane moments

When i watch how they live
I die a little
I cry a little

And i love more deeply than before
Because i watch how they live
And i feel
