

70-1000
we can pick

We can pick what we do, but not what we think
In a moment of blind rage i can still refuse a drink
Shrugging and ignoring is a very useful trick
Don't forget the mantra that we can always pick

We can pick what we do, but not what we feel
Doing is reality, feelings so surreal
If i acted on all my feelings i'd be a lunatic
Emotions are informative, but actions i can pick

We can pick what we do, but not who we are
I'm a narcissist by nature and my thoughts are quite bizarre
I cannot change my dna, it's just what makes me tick
But conscious i can make a choice, right actions i can pick

Try as you might Arguments must fail
Feelings power
Should not prevail
Herding impulse
This should click
Always know
We can pick
