We have mistaken

We have mistaken
Hate for love
From god above
By those who preach
And hatred teach
And blind believe
Words we receive
And thinking not
Stories bought
And we have mistaken
Hawk for dove
Hate for love

We have mistaken
Thought for rage
Do not engage
The enemy
For you know he
Has eyes that see
Subjectively
And thinking not
More stories bought
And we have mistaken
Thought for rage
We have so many wars to wage
Wars to wage

We have mistaken
What we learn from history
Past and present cease to be
Subject to a separate judge
For the hateful nary budge
And we are mistaken
But you know that
