We're all so nuts

We're all so nuts
That's what makes us fun
We lie around all day long
Roasting in the midday sun
We say we need to have a tan
Because it makes us look so great
And inside all our organs cook
And slowly all our brain cells bake
But that's what makes us fun
And we're all so nuts

We're all so nuts
But that's what makes cool
We dance and sing and drink too much
We prance about and look like fools
We find excuses to get drunk
Seems so absurd, who woulda thunk
That in the end we play the fool
And that's what makes us cool
We're all so nuts

We're all so nuts
But that's what makes life worth living
It's all fine and dandy to be giving
But trust me when it tell you this
Life is meant to find your bliss
But somehow we get offtrack
Feel our choices we do lack
And falling through that existential crack
We forget
That we can still dance in those ruts
And you can offer 1000 butts
But i say
Embrace it. That we are all so nuts
