What if you never knew

What if you never knew, this thing ive come to know
Of all the places ive ever been, the places i could go
I've spent a lifetime searching, wond'ring from afar
Driven a million miles alone inside my car

What if you never knew this feeling that i feel
I think i always thought that such a feeling wasn't real
But now that i have felt it i'd find it rather odd
To say that i am truly sure that there aint a god

What if you never knew the oft exploded heart
Where would you end, and how could you ever start
To try and explain to you the thing i understand
That anything is possible in this holy land

What if you never knew
What if you never knew
Never knew
Never knew
