What is the one thing everyone has

What is the one thing everyone has
Even when they can't find it
Even when they're right behind it

What is the one thing everybody wants
Even though they have it all along
Even though its still there when your gone

What is the one thing everybody needs
Even if many claim they can do without
Even though deep down they have no doubt

What is the one thing everybody is
Its the essence of all
It's the eternal call

You know the answer
You know it's true
What is the one thing everybody has
It's you
