What will stop the hurt

What will stop the hurt he asked
Nothing i explained
It's just a part of being open
To life, all feel such pain
So Do not run my lovely and do not try to hide
If i told you that you'd never feel
This torment i'd have lied
For this sorrow it connects us all
And when we look into your eyes
We understand you suffer so
Though we may not know for whom you cry
So please my lovely do not ask to take the pain away
For in our sadness we still know
That love never goes away

What will stop the hurt she asked
Nothing i opined
You may feel the ache in your heart
Keeps you dread confined
But if you share your despair with us
We will hold you tight
And gently we will wipe away
The tears you shed tonight
So do not turn your back my lovely
Do not fear our stare
We only gaze into your eyes
Because for you we care
And while the hurt may never stop
Your heart still remains true
For just as you have lost your love
Remember she loved you
