

721-1000
Winter solstice

Beginning today there's hope
I think i can cope
With the darkness
Since i know that
Beginning today
We tilt toward the sun
It may still be cold for a time
But perhaps i needn't run
Toward the light
For beginning today
There is hope
But still i wonder
How can i survive
Or thrive
Through one more winter
One more deep freeze
One more dusk without respite
Without the light
And try as i may
Hear me say
On this winter solstice
Though tempered with age
I feel
Some hope
But only some