Wrong with them

What's wrong with them
Is wrong with me too
They may seem hateful
The evil they do
Their expressions of anger
I oppose with disdain
But deep in my soul
I'm no different from them

These ones i accuse
Of everything bad
They ruin the nation
They're stark raving mad
They voice all their isms
Ne'er do they flinch
When challenged by me
They don't give an inch

We are no different
From the ones we abhor
Together we all walk
Through the same door
My liberal compass
May dictate my action
But in the end
It's just one more faction

I opine self-righteous
I do repre hence
These rightwing fanatics
To me make no sense
But it's just my story
My team's narrative
And if i'm being honest
I would live and let live

I guess what I'm saying
Is I'm no better or worse
From those who voice hatred
From those whom i curse
When i think i'm more worthy
Because of my view
I ignore the fact that
Nothing is true
