You have to look hard

Sometimes
You have to look hard
Past all of the bluster
With all the strength one can muster
Observe the resistance
And with sage insistence
Look for the good
The kind
The holy
And sometimes it's rough
The presentation is gruff
And just when it feels like it's time to say
I've had enough
Enough
I'm reminded
You have to look deeper
Past all of the fear
Remember this one was once held so dear
Remember this one to our heart once was near
So near
And thus we are taught
You have to look hard
For broken are we all
For surely each falls
Down
Time and again
And that is when
We are reminded
You have to look hard
